

To whom it may concern,

As a current senior finishing a degree in Graphic Design and Interactive Media at University of Wisconsin-Stout, I am eager to gain practical experience in the graphic design and UX industry. I am eager to apply my passion for user experience design to contribute positively to your team.

While I may not possess direct professional experience in UX design, I have cultivated a strong foundation through coursework, projects, and self-study. During my academic journey, I immersed myself in courses such as Advance Interactive Media where I gained insights into user-centric design and honed my skills in wireframing, prototyping, and usability testing while fostering a deep appreciation for the iterative design process.

For the past year I interned for the University of Wisconsin-Stout MSC design team. I worked on designing posters and social media graphics to help promote the student activities. This gave me the time to refine my design skills so that I can most clearly communicate information through design in a visually compelling manner.

I am excited about the opportunity to join a professional setting. I am ready to apply my skills and knowledge in a professional setting, gain hands-on experience that I won't find in the classroom, and contribute to a team. I am eager to learn from your team and contribute to the success of your projects.

Enclosed is my portfolio, which provides further details about my academic background and relevant skills. I am enthusiastic about the possibility of joining your team and contributing to your company's success. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how my skills and passion for UX and Graphic Design align with the needs of your team.

Sincerely,

Sara Moen
